With superyacht owners searching for the latest and greatest high-end products, we love seeing when two high-quality bespoke companies join forces and work together to provide the best of the best superyacht fitness equipment in the industry.

We have recently introduced you to our latest favourite innovative gym equipment KLINK. Well, do we have news for you!

In mid-July, we introduced you to KLINK (article linked here), the latest bespoke barbells and dumbbells on the market. Klinks equipment is the touch of genius the superyacht gym industry was looking for. Their Fitlok technology has removed the inconvenience of storing multiple weights that we all know well on superyachts. They provided a solution to our storage needs and gave us the ability to personalise their equipment to the yacht.

The News

With KLINK providing a solution for superyachts that are restricted on space, it left a blank space for those with plenty of room. So recently, they have joined forces with MH Luxury Collection. Together, they offer a solution to every facility, large or small, with a truly diverse range of equipment.

Mark Healey is the designer and owner of the MH Luxury Collection. He has over 22 years of experience designing luxury gyms for the elite. Mark began his career as a PT for superyacht owners, spending five years on board the iconic 88m sailing yacht, The Maltese Falcon. He then spent seven years operating between London, Moscow and Miami, where he trained clients and designed bespoke gyms for private markets.

The MH Luxury Collection was born to create a functional yet beautiful line of exercise equipment. It was designed to satisfy those who favour exclusive and luxury. They also offer bespoke branding and have an exceptional team of manufacturers in the UK who have created the collection using premium marine grade steel, F1 Material technology, and premier leather.

So, whether it's a fully equipped gym, a space-saving set for the crew, or a personalised gift for someone special, then KLINK and MH Luxury Collection have you covered.
