

Everything to Expect at the 2021 Fort Lauderdale Boat Show

After a somewhat quieter show last year due to Covid, the 2021 Fort Lauderdale Boat Show is back and taking place from 27-31 October 2021. Being the world's largest in-water boat show, we are expecting plenty of breaking news! In preparation for the upcoming week, we have compiled a list of everything to expect at Fort Lauderdale this year.

More than 1,300 boats and 900 exhibitors

Organisers have said that the 62nd annual show will be “bigger and better” than ever before. With over 900 exhibitors expected, along with more than 1,300 boats on display, this could well be true. Record-breaking numbers of people are expected to attend the event, which spans seven locations and almost 90 acres in Fort Lauderdale.

The Return of Superyacht Village

After a popular debut in 2019, Superyacht Village is returning to FLIBS 2021 for the third time. Held in the Pier south location, it will be the place to experience the biggest yachts attending the show. With debuts expected from Azimut Yachts, Ocean Alexander, Princess Yachts, and the Ferretti Group, it is sure to be one of the most impressive parts of the event.

Plenty of Yacht Debuts

Whilst there are bound to be many exciting reveals over the five days, they will keep most of these under wraps. However, some yachts that are confirmed to debut this year are:

Azimut Grande Trideck

The first-ever 38m Azimut Grande Trideck will be making its debut. The vessel, which boasts three decks and four terraces, provides the ultimate lifestyle of luxury and leisure. The innovative Trideck also includes a 'Hotel Mode,' a sustainable element of the superyacht. It allows guests to enjoy the open waters in peaceful silence whilst contributing zero emissions.
