

The Amazon of Yachting?

We all love to save time don't we? Look at Amazon as the perfect example. The simplicity, efficiency and time we save buying the things we need is key these days. Wouldn't it be nice if you could have the same service, efficiency and time saving when you order yacht spares?

Well now you can!

Everyone wants to save time looking at quotes and spend more time focussing on your guests right? Well, now you can with Global Services' new App & Portal. Global Services are one of the largest Superyacht supply companies in Europe. They are the ones most yachts turn to during the Summer season, European refits or build fit outs for support and supply. Due to the volume of business Global does, they decided one of the keys to keeping customers happy is the ease of ordering. As a result, this industry leading new platform was built. It exists solely to save time when it comes to ordering goods. It works by cutting out the quote process and offering instant prices and information for key products which can be ordered at the click of a button – it really is that simple.

What can you order?

Engine oils and deck wash down gear, to washing up liquids and multi-surface sanitisers. There's a huge range of products suitable for every department. With over 15,000 key products from all your favourite brands and thousands more being added every week you will soon be able to order everything you need via the app.

Great Features

Equipped with a handful of tailored features like Repeat Order, Essential Lists and Budget Control. This new system adds features we haven't seen in yachting so far. The App & Portal not only saves time, but adds real value to your experience with Global. Some features offer a helping hand and others have been added for crew convenience. All ultimately make ordering as easy as possible helping deliver Global's brand promise of always making life simple.

Global's new app is a game changer for ordering spares

Head of Sales, Matt Redstone, comments:

"What this app and portal really do is give crew more time. More time to concentrate on the things they want to, rather than worry about the things they don't need to. We always look at ways we can improve the support we give to vessels, and the app & portal will play a significant part in that. It will evolve further and become another invaluable part of the service we provide"

So why wouldn't you want to save time and make ordering easier? Global has made it simple to set up an account and get going. All you have to do is contact Global Services via email or phone and ask. Start ordering the new way today!
